

National Historic Landmarks of Louisville

KY

Did you know Louisville is home to 8 National Historic Landmarks?

Each was designated because they are all significant parts of our city, state and nation's history.

ACTORS THEATRE (1971) Theatre that inspires community. Located in the Bank of Louisville building (1837), a top example of small-scale Greek Revival architecture.

BELLE OF LOUISVILLE (1989) Oldest operating river steamboat in the country. She is steam-powered with engines built in the mid-1890s, and paddlewheel-driven. Built in 1914, is the only U.S. river steamboat to reach the age of 100.

CHURCHILL DOWNS' TWIN SPIRES (1986) Constructed in 1895, the Twin Spires are a recognized landmark and symbol of Churchill Downs and the Kentucky Derby. Experience them daily through tours with the Kentucky Derby Museum.

LIFE-SAVING STATION #10 (1989)

Only inland life-saving station in the country. Original station installed at Louisville in 1881 because of the hazards of the Falls of the Ohio. Current station is third version, built in 1929.
